Introduction:

A new investor has contacted us looking to open a restaurant in Toronto. They are looking for guidance on where to locate the restaurant and what kind of restaurant/bar to open. We will study the success of the existing business in the Toronto area, using the information obtained through the Foursquare API, together with the vehicle and foot traffic of the streets in Toronto, to decide an appropriate location. We will associate the success of each restaurant to the number of ‘tips’ and their ‘rating’.
